Rights of Internally Displaced People, Feature One

Author: IWPR
Spotlight on experiences of Kurds forced to leave shelled border villages.

This feature told the stories of uprooted people from 35 villages near the Iranian and Turkish borders, who were displaced at various times as a result of bombardments by Iranian and Turkish security forces. The piece looked at how the bombardments changed the lives of these people in terms of education, security, health, and quality of life in general.
